NEGROES A MENACE

|Factional Fight in Republican Ranks May Result in Negro Nomince.

COMMITTEE MEETS TO-DAY

Third District Republicans to Decide on Date of Convention.

The Third District Republican Commit-tee will assemble at 11 A. M. to-day at Ford's Law Building, on North Ninth Street, pursuant to the call of District Chairman Miles M. Williams to fix a date for holding a convention to nominate a congressional candidate.

The committee consists of one repre-sentative from each of the eight counties of the State. There are vacancies, however, in two of the counties, so that there will be but six members present besides the chairman. The majority of the district committeemen are opposed to the faction, with which Chairman Wilthe faction, with which Chairman Willams is afiliated, and recently endeavored to oust him as their presiding officer, but the State Executive Committee annulled spech action, and declared Mr. Williams the chairman of the district. It is practically certain that the committee will call a convention and make a nomination. That is the one point on which both factions are agreed. Mr. Edgar Allan, Jr., is a candidate of one faction, while the colored Republicans are ealisted in a movement to nominate J. B. Johnson, one of their own race. The Treat faction will stoutly oppose either of those aspirants, and will offer some candidate of its own. Every effort was made yesterdaily to secure the name of the inan whom this faction would probably arge, but willout avail. The names of a prominent young lawyer, a large manufacturer, a wholesale merchant, and an official of snother large manufacturing plant, are mentioned, but without their consent.

Their Master Now.

Their Master Now.

The movement to nominate a negro candidate appears to have taken well with the negroes of this city, and according to statements from representatives of both factions in this city, it is not unlikely that the colored contingent may snatch the prize, while the two factions of whites are lighting each other. Each of the factions at first attributed the negro movement to the other faction, regarding it as an effort to prevent the other capturing the negro vote in the mass meeting to choose delegates. Now however, each side professes to believe that the movement bas attained to proportions that menace white control of the done the faction. Certainly this appears to be true of the party in that city. Delegates to the district convention are to be chosen in this city by one big mass meeting of the entire Republican party of the city, and it is naturally teared that this is going to be an unwieldy and unruly body. It is going to be a very different matter to weed out the non-voters, those who have not qualified for suffrige by prepayment of the poll tax, and it is doubful if this car be done. With three factions at war in such a large mass meeting, there is every promise of a stormy gathering and great confusion.

To Abuse and Hector.

The Mayor holds that from his observation of the City Accountant's behavior, his conception of the duties of his office is to weep over those caught by others in peculation, to vilify and supplant those who, in behalf of the city, dare to arraign him for his own dereliction, to shuse and heeter members of the to abuse and hector members of the Council and others who presume to differ from him, to glorify himself for his scheme of putting out fires with twenty-inch guns and otherwise bettering the city in preposterous fashion. Notwithstanding the predictions and expectations of wonderful transformations which are to signalize the incoming administration. I am deposed to question whether human natural properties of the present accountant there will be no more roguery within the corporate limits. As has been stated ciredy, there has been at least one instance of robbery of the city within the City Hall itself while the supervision of the present accountant and prospective chief magistrate was immediate and direct. Hereafter, when his supervision will necessarily be remote and indirect, it is conceitable that there may be another instance. I do not, suppose that the plan I recommend could altogether prevent this, but I am sure fi is the nnily one which could with certainty bring it to light. Moreover, since the discovery of the dereliciton I have mentioned was not due to the ability of the accountant or to the merit of his methods, but was a struke to whose success he in no way contributed, I venture the surmise, without littending in the least to reflect upon the honesty of any city employe, that it is not impossible that there may be still other similar derelictions, missed by him, which a competent accountant, working under the rational system I suggest, might readily unearth.
